Appendix A – Lawful Bases for Processing

In all processing activities, you must have a valid lawful basis in order to process personal data. You must determine the lawful basis before you begin processing and this must be appropriately documented.

No single basis is 'better' or more important than the others – which basis is most appropriate will depend on the purpose for processing and the school's relationship with the individuals concerned.

There are six available lawful bases for processing personal data:

1. Consent – freely given, informed and evidenced by a clear affirmative action.
2. Contract – necessary for the performance of a contract with the Data Subject (including specific steps before entering into a contract).
3. Legal Obligation – necessary to comply with the law.
4. Vital Interests – necessary to protect the life of the data subject.
5. Public Task – necessary to perform a task in the public interest or for the school's official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law.
6. Legitimate Interests – necessary for the schools, or a third parties, legitimate interests in circumstances where the Data Subject's right to privacy does not override those legitimate interests (NB. This legal basis is unavailable for public authorities when the processing is in connection with an official task).

If you are processing Special Category Data, you must also identify a further lawful basis. There are ten available lawful bases for processing Special Category Data:

1. Explicit Consent – freely given, informed and evidenced by a clear affirmative statement.
2. Employment, social security or social protection law – necessary to meet legal obligations in these specific areas.
3. Vital Interests – necessary to protect the life of the data subject or another individual where they are physically or legally incapable of giving consent.
4. Not-for-profit Bodies – processing carried out by a political, philosophical, religious or trade union.
5. Deliberately made public by the Data Subject – data that has manifestly been placed in the public domain by the Data Subject.
6. Legal Claims – necessary for establishing, exercising or defending legal rights.
7. Substantial Public Interest – necessary for reasons of substantial public interest e.g. official functions, statutory purposes, equal opportunities or preventing or detecting unlawful acts.
8. Health and Social Care – necessary to preventative or occupational medicine, for the assessment of the working capacity of an employee, medical diagnosis, provision of health or social care or treatment or management of health and social care systems.
9. Public interest in the area of Public Health – such as threats to health or ensuring high standards of healthcare.
10. Archiving Purposes – public interest, scientific and historical research purposes or statistical purposes.

Further lawful bases are available for processing Criminal Convictions Data and advice must be sought prior to processing to determine what the appropriate lawful basis is.
